May 23-26, 2019 | Phoenix Convention Center

DISCOVER YOUR INNER GEEK!

Whether You're a First-Timer or a Veteran...
There's something new for everyone!

Navigating Phoenix Fan Fusion

Most of what you need is right here, but you can also check the website at phoenixfanfusion.com or download the Phoenix Fan Fusion app on any android or Apple device. We know you won't want to miss a thing, so we've added a scheduling feature right in the app and we'll remind you before each event you choose.

The crew is also here to help you have an amazing experience. You will find them everywhere, just look for the "crewmember" badges.

Phoenix Fan Fusion is more than 600,000 square feet. Find your way around easily: Maps of each area are on pages 7-15.

Here are the Top 5 Things We Think You'll Love at Phoenix Fan Fusion

Epic Guests

Meet your favorite celebrities and buy an autographed picture or photo op. Find your way up to the third floor for schedule and purchasing information. Get the 411 straight from the guests at our celebrity panels. Hear all about their experiences working on your favorite shows and films. Celebrity information is included on pages 27-34.

Genius Creators

Meet your favorite Comic book writers, artists and creators, Best Selling Authors and Amazing Cosplayers. Many of the creators will sign autographs (often for free or for a small donation to charity). Many of our guest creators also bring books, artwork, photos or other products for sale. Author, creator, and cosplay information is included on pages 17-34.

Fun For The Whole Family

We have hundreds of events and thousands of hours of unique entertainment experiences throughout the West and North buildings. Be sure to visit the E-sports hall in the lower level exhibit hall featuring the Playstation Road to Greatness Tour, the Tabletop and Board Gaming wing on the second floor of the west building, and Collectible Card Gaming (CCG) in West 106, on the first floor of the west building. Full event schedule is on pages 36-112.

Shop 'Til You Drop

With hundreds of Exhibitors and artists, you'll find just about anything geek or pop culture related you can ask for in our exhibitor hall. You're guaranteed to find the largest selection of Funko Pop figurines, art prints and movie posters, T-shirts, cosplay wigs and accessories, comic books, and your next favorite novel. Maps on pages 8-11.

One Big Happy Family

At Phoenix Fan Fusion, we are brought together under one giant roof to celebrate our fandoms and help everyone Discover Your Inner Geek™ together. You'll never know who or what you'll see when you're roaming Phoenix Fan Fusion. Most of all, we've had the pleasure of seeing people from every background come together as one big, happy family. Our community is full of passionate, warm, supportive, welcoming fans that grow every year and, if this is your first year at Phoenix Fan Fusion, we can't wait to have you join the big, geeky family. 🍷

If You See Something, Say Something

Phoenix Fan Fusion staff and on-site security have your safety as their top priority. Suspicious or aggressive activities or behavior should be reported immediately. Phoenix Fan Fusion will always encourage attendees to SPEAK OUT against the inappropriate social behavior of a sexual and/or stereotypical nature toward themselves and fellow fans. Phoenix Fan Fusion has a ZERO TOLERANCE POLICY for harassment and discrimination of any kind.

HALL OF HEROES MAP

The floor plan depicts a large indoor event space, possibly a convention hall, with a complex layout of booths, seating, and service areas. The plan is oriented with a red cross symbol at the top center. The layout includes a large central area with numerous booths, some labeled with names like 'T-Mobile', 'STAR WARS Neighborhood', 'Medieval Tournament', and 'SUPER HERO NEIGHBORHOOD'. There are also seating areas with rows of chairs, and service zones labeled 'VIP' and 'General Attendance'. The plan is divided into sections by walls and corridors, with various room numbers and booth identifiers visible. The overall design is a top-down view of the event space, showing the arrangement of furniture, equipment, and structural elements.

WHAT IS A PHOTO OP?

Our professional photographers will snap a candid of you and your favorite celebrity in our photo booth. Most photo ops include up to 4 people. Head on up to the third floor where you'll find all the celebrities, our point-of-sale booth for buying photo ops, and much more. Photo ops include one printed copy. Additional copies and digital downloads are available for an added fee.

**This is not a meet & greet and should not be viewed as such**

HOW DOES THE AUTOGRAPH WORK?

Choose from available 8 x 10 photographs or bring your own memorabilia (additional fee may apply) and have it signed by one of our guests at their signing table. This is your chance for a slightly longer conversation. Some guests prefer to handle their own sales and autographs can only be purchased directly at the table. Others let us handle the money at our point-of-sale booth or online. Only one autograph per purchase, please.

CAN I GET A SELFIE?

There's nothing better than getting up close and personal with your favorite star and snapping that unforgettable shot. But, not all our guests allow selfies or photos at their signing table, so be sure you ask their assistant or a crew member for permission before shooting. Most of our guests will charge an additional fee if selfies are allowed.

Dare to Escape: Coma

You are part of a team that is working on a device called the Memory Extraction Machine (MEM), which allows a user to experience another person's memories. One evening, you are visited by agents from the CIA. They fly you and the MEM out to a hospital in a neutral country, where a CIA agent lays in coma. Your mission is to delve into the memories of the agent and recover the encryption keys locked safely away in his mind. The agent is not doing so well and he does not have much time to live, so time is not a luxury that can be afforded. Paid event: $17.

North 121AB Coma Escape

12:00 PM-11:30 PM

Dare to Escape: The Cell

You are an investigative journalist working for the renowned newspaper Daily Trumpet. A few weeks ago, an undercover FBI operative contacted the Trumpet. He told a story about a terrorist organization, called Sons of Sahar, planning an attack on US soil. He believed someone in the FBI was "letting this happen". After checking the story, you and your team agreed to meet with him in person at a diner in a remote town. When you arrived to the meeting location, however, men in black masks jumped the diner and subdued you. You wake up imprisoned in a cell with a note from the FBI agent: "Sorry things have turned out this way. I'll lure the sentry out with a story, but it won't hold long. You have to recover their action plan and get out within 30 minutes." Paid event: $17.

North 121AB The Cell Escape

12:00 PM-11:30 PM

Dare to Escape: X-Child

Telepathy Acclimation Program, or TAP, was a program set up to train potential human telepaths. Children who showed telepathic potential were sent to Station Zero, a facility located deep in the Mojave Desert for training. You were one of the children who was sent to this facility. Officially, TAP's function was "to evaluate telepathic abilities so an understanding of this phenomenon could be compiled." In reality, they did physical and psychological experiments on you and other children. The facility was closed down, and your memories of the place is hazy. After years of searching, you and a group of TAP victims were finally able to locate the now-abandoned facility. Some old systems are still active though. As soon as you enter the facility, it goes into a lockdown. Paid event: $17.

1:30 PM-2:30 PM

Respecting the Cultures-Your Myths are Other's Religions

Diversity in literature requires more than assigning a different gender, identity or nationality than ourselves. It requires the incorporation of that person's culture. Whether historical or futuristic, people carry their cultures within them, and that includes their religions. They might be loud and proud to display their heritage, or they might be quiet and subtle. Either way, sometimes we forget that what we consider myths might still be living religions. They might be supplanted by another religion, but the stories are still be deeply ingrained in their cultures. Respect demands more than inclusion and our authors will explore mistakes, and how to pay proper homage. Guests: The Klute, T.L. Smith, Jenna Elizabeth Johnson, Patrick Tylee, Lloyd Pulley

North 129B

Captive State- Take Me to Your Leader (So He Can Sell You Out)

Nine years after first contact with alien life, humanity faces annihilation. Our leaders have capitulated to the aliens. Weapons and other means of rebellion have been confiscated. National defense forces have been demilitarized. Humans are watched and scanned in order to ensure compliance that "preserves order" and "protects" their safety. The aliens have set up puppet governments run by humans to keep this order and purge resistance. This is the world of Captive State, a harrowing take on the sci-fi alien-invasion genre that shows what sorts of oppression and tyranny could await us when visitors from other worlds come with bad intentions. Guest: Kevin Kittle

Dare to Escape: Coma

You are part of a team that is working on a device called the Memory Extraction Machine (MEM), which allows a user to experience another person's memories. One evening, you are visited by agents from the CIA. They fly you and the MEM out to a hospital in a neutral country, where a CIA agent lays in coma. Your mission is to delve into the memories of the agent and recover the encryption keys locked safely away in his mind. The agent is not doing so well and he does not have much time to live, so time is not a luxury that can be afforded. Paid event: $17

Dare to Escape: The Cell

You are an investigative journalist working for the renowned newspaper Daily Trumpet. A few weeks ago, an undercover FBI operative contacted the Trumpet. He told a story about a terrorist organization, called Sons of Sahar, planning an attack on US soil. He believed someone in the FBI was "letting this happen". After checking the story, you and your team agreed to meet with him in person at a diner in a remote town. When you arrived to the meeting location, however, men in black masks jumped the diner and subdued you. You wake up imprisoned in a cell with a note from the FBI agent: "Sorry things have turned out this way... I'll lure the sentry out with a story, but it won't hold long. You have to recover their action plan and get out within 30 minutes." Paid event: $17

Dare to Escape: X-Child

Telepathy Acclimation Program, or TAP, was a program set up to train potential human telepaths. Children who showed telepathic potential were sent to Station Zero, a facility located deep in the Mojave Desert for training. You were one of the children who was sent to this facility. Officially, TAP's function was "to evaluate telepathic abilities so an understanding of this phenomenon could be compiled." In reality, they did physical and psychological experiments on you and other children. The facility was closed down, and your memories of the place is hazy. After years of searching, you and a group of TAP victims were finally able to locate the now-abandoned facility. Some old systems are still active though. As soon as you enter the facility, it goes into a lockdown. Paid event: $17

Finding Hope and Healing for Struggling Youth

Panelist Shelbi Webb (13) discusses her experiences with bullying, the suicide of many friends and family, as well as issues pertaining to LGBTQ+ individuals, mental illness, and addiction with those she loves. She is now one of the youngest authors in the country sharing her message of hope and healing using her Comic With a Cause, Sugar Glider. In this panel, Shelbi will talk about the superhero of her story, Sugar Glider, and the enlarged empathy she has. The antagonists in the story are personifications of problems kids face such as bullying, suicide, self-image, peer pressure, LGBTQ+ and so many more. Instead of fighting a villain, Sugar Glider helps them to use their newfound power for good. Shelbi talks about therapy and how it has been an influential tool in her healing journey. She wants kids just like her to know that having everyday struggles is not something to be ashamed of and that there is hope and healing for painful issues that happen as children. Shelbi also wants kids to know that speaking about these issues with trusted adults is an important part of the healing process. Guest: Shelbi Webb

Dare to Escape: Coma

You are part of a team that is working on a device called the Memory Extraction Machine (MEM), which allows a user to experience another person's memories. One evening, you are visited by agents from the CIA. They fly you and the MEM out to a hospital in a neutral country, where a CIA agent lays in coma. Your mission is to delve into the memories of the agent and recover the encryption keys locked safely away in his mind. The agent is not doing so well and he does not have much time to live, so time is not a luxury that can be afforded. Paid Event: $17.

Dare to Escape: The Cell

You are an investigative journalist working for the renowned newspaper Daily Trumpet. A few weeks ago, an undercover FBI operative contacted the Trumpet. He told a story about a terrorist organization, called Sons of Sahar, planning an attack on US soil. He believed someone in the FBI was "letting this happen". After checking the story, you and your team agreed to meet with him in person at a diner in a remote town. When you arrived to the meeting location, however, men in black masks jumped the diner and subdued you. You wake up imprisoned in a cell with a note from the FBI agent: "Sorry things have turned out this way... I'll lure the sentry out with a story, but it won't hold long. You have to recover their action plan and get out within 30 minutes." Paid Event: $17

Dare to Escape: X-Child

Telepathy Acclimation Program, or TAP, was a program set up to train potential human telepaths. Children who showed telepathic potential were sent to Station Zero, a facility located deep in the Mojave Desert for training. You were one of the children who was sent to this facility. Officially, TAP's function was "to evaluate telepathic abilities so an understanding of this phenomenon could be compiled." In reality, they did physical and psychological experiments on you and other children. The facility was closed down, and your memories of the place is hazy. After years of searching, you and a group of TAP victims were finally able to locate the now-abandoned facility. Some old systems are still active though. As soon as you enter the facility, it goes into a lockdown...Paid Event: $17

It's my life! We need to teach joy in schools.

Today's children are faced with more stress than ever before. "Your test scores need to be higher so that you can have a good life," they are told endlessly. But really? Is a life of drudgery a good life? With the double pressures of budget cuts and high-stakes testing, music, art, PE, drama, and sports have been eliminated. They joyful courses are gone. We've got to bring them back. Join us for a discussion of how and why elective courses must be part of the solution to the problems of high stress, bullying, and increased rates of youth suicide in Arizona. Yes, we'll kick it off with the Bon Jovi tune and some dancing! Because life should be joyful! Guests: Rosemarie Dombrowski & Rinky Dink Press, Mitzi Epstein

Dare to Escape: Coma

You are part of a team that is working on a device called the Memory Extraction Machine (MEM), which allows a user to experience another person's memories. One evening, you are visited by agents from the CIA. They fly you and the MEM out to a hospital in a neutral country, where a CIA agent lays in coma. Your mission is to delve into the memories of the agent and recover the encryption keys locked safely away in his mind. The agent is not doing so well and he does not have much time to live, so time is not a luxury that can be afforded. Paid event: $17

Dare to Escape: The Cell

You are an investigative journalist working for the renowned newspaper Daily Trumpet. A few weeks ago, an undercover FBI operative contacted the Trumpet. He told a story about a terrorist organization, called Sons of Sahar, planning an attack on US soil. He believed someone in the FBI was "letting this happen". After checking the story, you and your team agreed to meet with him in person at a diner in a remote town. When you arrived to the meeting location, however, men in black masks jumped the diner and subdued you. You wake up imprisoned in a cell with a note from the FBI agent: "Sorry things have turned out this way... I'll lure the sentry out with a story, but it won't hold long. You have to recover their action plan and get out within 30 minutes." Paid event: $17

Dare to Escape: X-Child

Telepathy Acclimation Program, or TAP, was a program set up to train potential human telepaths. Children who showed telepathic potential were sent to Station Zero, a facility located deep in the Mojave Desert for training. You were one of the children who was sent to this facility. Officially, TAP's function was "to evaluate telepathic abilities so an understanding of this phenomenon could be compiled." In reality, they did physical and psychological experiments on you and other children. The facility was closed down, and your memories of the place is hazy. After years of searching, you and a group of TAP victims were finally able to locate the now-abandoned facility. Some old systems are still active though. As soon as you enter the facility, it goes into a lockdown...Paid event: $17

How Adults Can Talk to Adolescents About Serious Issues, Create Change, and Save Lives!

In this panel, 13-year-old Comic Book Author Shelbi Webb, and her parents, Jason and Maggie, discuss when Shelbi was an 11-year-old victim of bullying, experienced four suicides in two years, and has watched friends and family endure LGBTQ+ intolerance, mental illness and addiction. This has helped Shelbi grow closer to her family and become a champion for kids while bridging the communication gap between youth and adults. Jason and Maggie talk about the struggle of seeing their young daughter suffer emotionally and finding the appropriate way to talk to her about her feelings while building trust. Shelbi and her family share a message of "therapy" not being a bad word. The vehicle for distributing the message is Sugar Glider a Comic with a Cause. Featuring the popular band X Ambassadors in the first series of the comic book, the teen hero gains super powers including increased speed, heightened metabolism but most important is an enlarged empathy. The antagonists are personifications of problems that adolescents face every day from bullying to self image and from addiction to suicide. This comic is a platform for adults and kids to talk to one another in a non-confrontational manner about real-life topics that are serious issues with the youth in the world today. Sugar Glider is on a move to create change and offer hope and healing. Guest: Shelbi Webb

Secret Origins of Superhero Cinema: A Podcast Crossover Event!

Before Steve Rogers could do this all day, before Batman asked Superman if he could bleed, before Venom got weirdly obsessed with the pancreas, there was a superhero boom in the movies of the late 80s and early 90s that paved the way for the golden age we are presently experiencing. But how did these movies prepare audiences for seeing comic book heroes on the big screen? What mistakes did they make? A topic this big is too big for one show, so the forces behind The Next Reel, Road To Infinity and Most Excellent 80s Movies podcasts have teamed up to create an epic crossover event. No stone left unturned, no flop left unflipped, and you are right in the middle of the recording session! Guest: Kyle Olson

The Write Weapon - Selecting the Weapons Your Character Uses, From Accident or Intention

Only in Star Trek can you give a primitive a laser weapon...well, you can do it anywhere, but of course the primitive would be confused when it accidentally fires and kills a Red Shirt. As writers, we have to study our characters, the time period, and the weapons available to us in that time line. Sure we can pick a sword we like, but not if it didn't exist at that time. Where's the safety on that hand gun? What can our laser's really do? Our authors will discuss their thinking behind the weapons in their books. Guests: Weston Ochse, Jenn Windrow, Deena Remiel, Mark Rude, Duann Black, Lloyd Pulley
North 129B

1:30 PM-2:30 PM

BOARD GAMES

Above and Below

Above and Below is a mashup of town-building and story-telling where you and up to three friends compete to build the best village above and below ground.

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Friday	Prefunction 3	2	8:00 PM	11:00 PM
Sunday	Prefunction 3	4	2:00 PM	4:00 PM

Ancient, Terrible Things

In Ancient Terrible Things, a pulp horror adventure game for 2-4 players, you play the role of an intrepid adventurer, exploring a dark jungle river. Each turn you must travel to a Fateful Location, face an Ominous Encounter, and attempt to unlock its Ancient Secrets.

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Friday	212ABC	4	7:00 PM	9:00 PM

Asteroyds

The aim of Asteroyds is to navigate the highly dangerous asteroid field and pass through four gates. What sets the game apart from other games of this design is that almost everything in the race zone can move position, so the players need to plan with that in mind.

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Saturday	212ABC	6	2:00 PM	4:00 PM

Azul

Introduced by the Moors, azulejos (originally white and blue ceramic tiles) were fully embraced by the Portuguese when their king Manuel I, on a visit to the Alhambra palace in Southern Spain, was mesmerized by the stunning beauty of the Moorish decorative tiles. The king, awestruck by the interior beauty of the Alhambra, immediately ordered that his own palace in Portugal be decorated with similar wall tiles. As a tile-laying artist, you have been challenged to embellish the walls of the Royal Palace of Evora.

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Friday	212ABC	6	4:00 PM	6:00 PM

Bärenpark

Bärenpark takes you into the world of bears, challenging you to build your own bear park. Would you like another polar bear enclosure or rather a koala* house? The park visitors are sure to get hungry on their tour through the park, so build them places to eat! Whatever your choices are, make sure you get the next building permit and use your land wisely! (* No, koalas aren't bears but they're so cute, we couldn't leave them out of this game!)

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Sunday	212ABC	6	10:00 AM	12:00 PM

Batman Gotham City Chronicles

Exciting SuperHero Action! Good vs Evil! Come play Monolith's new game using the popular Conan engine!

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Friday	Prefunction 3	1	7:00 PM	11:00 PM
Saturday	Prefunction 3	1	10:00 AM	2:00 PM

Battalia: The Creation

BATTALIA: The Creation is a competitive, fast-paced, strategic deck-builder that combines map construction, hero and area control and unique calendar mechanisms. In the base game, all players will buy useful artefacts and hire battle and labor units to support their armies. They will build roads and cities and send their heroes to battle - every opponent will have to find the most powerful mixture of all these assets and apply them at the right moment, so eventually the player could claim to be the rightful ruler of Battalia and win the game.

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Friday	212ABC	2	4:00 PM	6:00 PM

Betrayal at Baldurs Gate

As you build and explore the iconic city's dark alleys and deadly catacombs, you must work with your fellow adventurers to survive the terrors ahead. That is, until some horrific evil turns one - or possibly more - of you against each other. Was it a mind player's psionic blast or the whisperings of a deranged ghost that caused your allies to turn traitor? You have no choice but to keep your enemies close!

-----	------	-------	-------	-----

Friday	Prefunction 3	1	2:00 PM	4:00 PM
Friday	Prefunction 3	3	8:00 PM	10:00 PM
Saturday	212ABC	16	7:00 PM	11:00 PM

Betrayal at House on the Hill with Expansion

The house on the hill has a wicked reputation. Those who dare to darken its door often leave steeped in madness and despair - if they leave at all. Now the horror reaches new heights with Widow's Walk, the first-ever expansion for the critically acclaimed board game Betrayal at House on the Hill. The house is expanded with the addition of twenty new rooms, including the roof, a previously unexplored floor.

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Friday	212ABC	5	2:00 PM	4:00 PM
Saturday	212ABC	5	7:00 PM	9:00 PM

Big Trouble in Little China

Face off against Lo Pan in this exciting quest-driven game.

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Friday	Prefunction 3	1	10:00 AM	2:00 PM
Saturday	Prefunction 3	1	7:00 PM	11:00 PM
Sunday	Prefunction 3	1	10:00 AM	2:00 PM

Board Games with Mike

Come play a variety of games with Mike!

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Sunday	212ABC	15	3:00 PM	4:00 PM

Century: Golem Edition

In Century: Golem Edition, players are caravan leaders who travel the famed golem road to deliver crystals to the far reaches of the world. Each turn, players may establish trade routes, make trades or harvest crystals, fulfill a demand request, or rest. The last round is triggered once a player has claimed their fifth victory point card, then whoever has the most victory points wins.

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Friday	212ABC	12	11:00 AM	3:00 PM

Chicken Caesar

In Chicken Caesar, players represent aristocratic ancient Roman chicken families trying to create a legacy for their family name. Each family has several eligible roosters eager to jump into the world of politics, getting rich and creating a legacy by any means necessary.

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Saturday	212ABC	5	1:00 PM	3:00 PM

City of Iron

In City of Iron, players compete to build up a small nation in a world of machines, magic, and money. The future of a nation is in your hands. Build unbreakable foundations for an empire or disappear into the dusty pages of history.

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Saturday	Prefunction 3	2	8:00 PM	11:00 PM
Sunday	Prefunction 3	4	10:00 AM	1:00 PM

Clank!

Burgle your way to adventure in the deck-building board game Clank! Sneak into an angry dragon's mountain lair to steal precious artifacts. Delve deeper to find more valuable loot. Acquire cards for your deck and watch your thievish abilities grow. Be quick and be quiet. One false step and CLANK! Each careless sound draws the attention of the dragon, and each artifact stolen increases its rage. You can enjoy your plunder only if you make it out of the depths alive!

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Friday	212ABC	12	7:00 PM	11:00 PM

Clank! In! Space!

In this deck-building board game, the evil Lord Eradikus has all but conquered the galaxy and is now on a victory lap across the sector in his flagship, Eradikus Prime. He may rule with an iron grip, but his most prized artifacts are about to slip through his cyborg claws. You and your fellow thieves have challenged each other to sneak aboard his ship, hack your way into its command module, and steal from him. Along the way, you'll recruit allies and snatch up extra loot. But one false step and - Clank! Careless noise draws the attention of Lord Eradikus. Hacking into his command module and stealing his artifacts increases his rage. You'd better hope your friends are louder than you are if you want to make it to an escape pod and get out alive...

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Saturday	212ABC	16	11:00 AM	3:00 PM

Clans of Caledonia

Clans of Caledonia is a mid-to-heavy economic game set in 19th-century Scotland. At this time, Scotland made the transition from an agricultural to an industrialized country that heavily relied on trade and export. In the following years, food production increased significantly to feed the population growth. Linen was increasingly substituted by the cheaper cotton and raising sheep was given high importance. More and more distilleries were founded and whisky became the premium alcoholic beverage in Europe. Players represent historic clans with unique abilities and compete to produce, trade and export agricultural goods and of course whisky!

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Sunday	212ABC	16	3:00 PM	4:30 PM

Dice Forge

Heroes, stand ready! The gods are offering a seat in heaven to whichever hero defeats their rivals. Your courage and wits will be your most precious allies as you use divine dice to gather resources along the road to victory. Your divine dice are exceptional, with removable faces! Customize your dice to make them more powerful as the game progresses. Sacrifice gold to the gods to obtain enhanced dice faces. Upgrade your dice to produce the resources you need.

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Saturday	212ABC	3	1:00 PM	3:00 PM

Dice Throne

Dice Throne is a game of intriguing dice, tactical card play, powerful heroes, and unique abilities. It's a fast-paced 2-6 player combat game (1v1, 2v2, 3v3, 2v2v2, or free-for-all). Select from a variety of heroes that play and feel completely distinct from one another. Attack opponents and activate abilities by rolling your hero's unique set of five dice. Accumulate combat points and spend them on cards that have a large range of effects, such as granting permanent hero upgrades, applying status effects, and manipulating dice directly (yours, your teammate's, or even your opponent's).

Day	Room	Table	Start	End
Friday	212ABC	12	3:00 PM	7:00 PM
Sunday	212ABC	12	3:00 PM	4:30 PM

Dragon Castle

Dragon Castle is a game freely inspired by Mahjong Solitaire. During your turn, you take a pair of identical tiles from the central "castle" (known as the Dragon Castle) and place them on your own realm board to build your own castle. From time to time, you may sacrifice these tiles to acquire shrines in their place. You may also take advantage of the available spirit card and its game-changing powers... but this will come at a cost!

DDOPEN-2018: Gangs of Waterdeep

Gangs of Waterdeep is a Dungeons & Dragons AE adventure for the six 3rd-level pregenerated characters included with the adventure. Using characters other than those provided is not allowed, as the characters are created to fit specifically into the story and encounters of the adventure. The D&D Open is a competitive event designed for multiple groups playing together. Players participating in the event can earn rewards that can be applied to one D&D Adventurers League character. Rewards can only be applied to a single DDAL character, as described on the official D&D Open reward certificate provided to players at the end of the event. The event runs for approximately 8 hours, with a break between the first and second round. In the past, the D&D Open was a highly competitive event where the players vied to "win" by earning the most points within a highly structured scoring system. This new incarnation of the D&D Open is a departure from those early iterations. While competitive aspects of the event remain intact, the event's main goal has changed: FUN FOR EVERYONE! This D&D Open maintains a scoring system, although the scoring isn't as rigid as D&D Open events of the past, and prizes can be earned in many ways. Not only will prizes be given to the groups that get the most points, but additional prizes are possible for roleplaying, problem solving, or just being in the right place at the right time.

This D&D Open also adds some theatrical elements that allow the players, DMs, and other volunteers to roleplay at different tables.

Down the Verdant Path

Few dare tread through the ancient groves of the Verduran Forest, and those who do settle in these woodlands tend to stay close to their communities. Mystery and danger rarely deter agents of the Pathfinder Society, however. When the semi-retired Pathfinder Falbin ventured from his home deep in the wood, he came across an unexpected pocket of flourishing growth and summer weather in the middle of the wintry forest. He fears that this disturbance is the work of a cabal of druids whose mayhem the Society ended six years ago. Have the druids returned to wreak havoc, or are other forces at play?

Pathfinder Special:

The Hao Jin Catadysm

Many centuries ago, the legendary sorceress Hao Jin crafted a museum demiplane, ripping locations from across Golarion to add to her personal collection. When she vanished without a trace, the demiplane began falling into disrepair. Ever since the Pathfinder Society gained access to this realm seven years ago, its agents have been gradually exploring the demiplane's wonders, meeting its people, and cataloging its preserved historical relics. Former Pathfinder Master of Spells Aram Zey has just made a terrible discovery—the demiplane's deterioration has reached a critical stage. Unless the Pathfinder Society intervenes, the entire demiplane will rip apart violently, ejecting most of its contents into the Astral Plane and killing everyone inside. Yet it isn't as simple as sewing the demiplane back together with some metaphysical thread. Powerful forces from both within the tapestry and outside of it seek to hasten the destruction or profit off the chaos, and the impending apocalypse has thrown the tapestry's civilizations into turmoil.

Scavenger 5E

Refugees of the Apocalypse: What Makes Scavenger Unique? Scavenger is something of an apocalyptic world. The pitch for it is simple: the world of Akara is dying, and the World Torn Apart is humanity's last hope for survival. This is not a unique pitch. Change a few words and see what happens: the world of Athas is dying, and Sorcerer-Kings (or psionics or the Dragon) is humanity's last hope for survival. Another: The world of Criftoth is dying, and a traitorous archdemon is humanity's last hope for survival. In other words, on the surface, these apocalypse-plagued worlds can strike readers as pretty same.

But there's always a bit of nuance that separates them. Example: Criftoth is a game about people fighting against literal Hell to escape slavery. That last bit is key, since demon-human slavery is a bigger focus than in Dark Sun. Aesthetic, too, separates these worlds. In Athas magic is environmentally murderous, there is no metal, and psionic powers makes even the mundane strikingly weird. These are ways to keep the apocalypse fresh by changing how it feels in terms of: "What is my character looking like?" or

"What is my character fighting against?"

Scavenger includes similar elements, but we wanted to take it somewhere else too. Instead of exploring only apocalyptic fantasy like some of these other great pillars have, we wanted our setting to tell types of stories that, so far, have been absent in tabletop gaming. This is the Refugee Story. Let's put it like this: Scavenger isn't just about surviving an apocalypse. It's a story about being displaced. Your characters are being forced to move from one part of Akara to another, and in some instances forced to move into an entirely new universe. In this way, it's intensely personal; instead of a focus on killing enemies or eating everything you find or rushing to get as much power as possible or becoming the biggest fish, the focus is on where do I go now and what happened to my loved ones after they scattered and what are the dangers of this new home.

To some, this might sound boring, but Scavenger is still a world for 5th Edition. There are monsters and combats and weird magics and all kinds of things that we (and all D&D player's) have come to love. There are striking villains and places desperately in need of heroes. There's cool loot to find and weird dungeons to explore. But at the heart of it sits the theme of displacement. Scavengers haven't forgotten the history of their world. They remember their homes, their old lives, and are trying to recapture that somewhere new. They, and almost everyone else that lives in Akara, are refugees forced to go to increasingly more alien extremes to rebuild their lives.

And all this isn't to say that Criftoth or Dark Sun are worse than Scavenger. Criftoth is a setting I enjoy thoroughly, and Dark Sun is an absolute masterpiece and the first fantasy setting of its kind. Both offer tremendously cool experiences to be shared. It's because these settings are such great pillars that the Scavenger project wants to take a new route to keeping the apocalypse fresh. We're still working out the kinks but we think we have something here that, when applied to your normal games, will keep you coming back for more. Pregens Provided.

Seige of Civility

The Wayfinders' flagship, the Master of Stars, is almost ready to return to active duty within the Starfinder fleet, however one integral component is missing. In order to gather necessary technological expertise to complete the missing piece, the PCs must join the Wayfinders' faction leader on a diplomatic mission into the heavily militarized Gideron Authority Republic in Near Space. How the PCs comport themselves will determine if the Society can establish peaceful ties and possibly affect the ongoing saga of the brewing conflict between the Authority and the peaceful Marixah Republic.

The Commencement

All Starfinders complete their training by conferring with Guidance—a network of uploaded personalities embodying paragons from the Starfinder Society's history. Before receiving the blessing of Guidance, the PCs must meet with and assist critical missions on behalf of key leaders of the Society's leading factions. With the events of the Scoured Stars incident still fresh in everyone's memory, there's plenty that needs doing to set the Society back on track.

The Confirmation

Almost all Pathfinders undergo extensive training for three or more years to learn the tricks of the trade, and their last test before graduating from the ranks of the initiates to the status of a full Pathfinder agent is the Confirmation, a special research project that involves considerable fieldwork and is designed to simulate the initiates' future work as a Pathfinder. Even the noteworthy field commissioned agents sometimes participate in such trials as a way to familiarize themselves with the Pathfinder Society's rules and expectations. Although Confirmation is typically an individual affair, the society recently discovered a site on the Isle of Kortos that would be perfect for initiates but perhaps too dangerous to handle alone. Successfully uncovering this site's secrets will not only contribute to the society's body of knowledge but shape the exciting careers ahead for each of the prospective agents.

The Night March of Kalkamedes

A veteran Pathfinder exploring the Fenwall Mountains of Varisia has begun sleepwalking, traveling through the dead of night in the same direction each time. The following mornings, however, he awakens injured and lost in the wilderness, never reaching the mysterious destination that drew him from his bed in the night. Something is calling Kalkamedes, something powerful, but unless he can make it safely to the source of his somnambulism, that power will remain a mystery. It falls to a team of Pathfinders to escort the sleepwalker to his destination and uncover the true nature of the strange phenomenon overtaking Kalkamedes's dreams.

Treason's Chains

Venture-Captain Roderus has long been one of the most reliable and steadfast allies of the Pathfinder Society in the nation of Katapesh, but the aging human has decided that it is time to retire from his long-held position. Roderus's retirement party draws in Pathfinders from across Golarion, but there are some who see his retirement as an opportunity to advance personal goals that go against the Pathfinder Society's interests. Amid the turmoil of a party turned crime scene, the PCs must uncover the true threat to the Society's stability in Katapesh—and perhaps make an unexpected new ally along the way.

Wardens of Sulfur Gulch

Among the earliest Pathfinders was the Gojan the Sharp, famed for his studies of the technology-strewn wasteland of Numeria before he disappeared forever into the infamous Silver Mount. The Pathfinder Society has uncovered a forgotten cache of Gojan's Numerian journals identifying sites unknown even to the local barbarian chieftains. The time is right to unearth a pristine piece of alien technology! However, Pathfinders should remember that for every untouched marvel that remains, an unblinking sentry may lie in wait.
